Dr. John Mathews.—The following letter was read:

St. Louis, Mo., October, 1906.

To the Bishop and Members of the Tennessee Annual Conference.

Dear Brethren: I am still on my journey toward the Holy City, accumulating, as I go, faith and spiritual strength. I had expected to end my course ere this. It may be God keeps me here to refine the more delicate qualities of my being. Let that be as it may, I am daily anticipating my exodus from earth, trusting in that "Presence that empowers." I have a widening view of the atoning work of Jesus, our Lord. I cling with great tenacity to the teachings of the Fathers, who emphasized the supernatural work of the Holy Spirit in regenerating the human heart.

I sum up my creed in the words of Whittier, the poet:

"The foot of faith falls on the seeming void, And finds the rock beneath."

Yours in Christ,

JOHN MATHEWS.

SUPPLEMENT—REPORTS ADOPTED.

TEMPERANCE.

We rejoice to state that there are now saloons in only fifteen places in Tennessee. Eight of these having a population of something over five thousand inhabitants, the Adams law does not apply to them; and seven, which have a population of less than five thousand, are subject to the Adams law, but it has not as yet been applied. There are saloons in only twelve out of ninety-six counties.

There is every occasion for profound gratitude to Almighty God, and for encouragement in the well-begun work of eradicating this monster evil from the whole State.

We are greatly pleased at the high ground our splendid daily newspapers of Nashville—namely, the American and the Banner—have taken on the question of temperance and on other great moral issues looking to the betterment of our cities and towns and the ennobling of our whole people. These great dailies merit the open and substantial commendation of this body and of every true patriot of Tennessee. The Coming Day, an excellent temperance bimonthly magazine, printed by our Publishing House, would greatly help the cause of temperance if more widely circulated, which should be done.

· We recommend:

I. That we heartily favor the unconditional extension of the Adams law to every place in the State where it does not now apply.

2. That we favor legislation, both national and State, to prevent the shipment of liquor into dry territory. The Hepburn-Dolliver Bill should be passed and the jug trade stopped.

3. That we declare our unabating antagonism to all forms of gambling, a twin evil; and that we recommend the enactment by the ensuing State Legislature of an anti-race track gambling law in compliance with the State constitution.

4. That we indorse the good work of the Anti-Saloon League, and that we are in sympathy with the efforts of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

5. That we will speak, pray, and work for temperance, which means: (1) The moderate use of all things good; (2) total abstinence from that which is bad; and (3) helping others to abstain, both by moral and legal suasion—that is, we will do our utmost to keep our Tennessee boys out of temptation and temptation out of the way of these boys, and this latter we regard as the all-important thing.

6. That we will not vote for any man for any office who is known to be a drunkard, or who is dominated by the political influence of the saloon and the brewer.

Let the old Jerusalem Conference rise up and say with the voice of one man: "Down with the infamous liquor traffic!" T. W. NOLAND,

REPORT OF THE EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

The past year has been the most prosperous year in the history of the Epworth League in our Conference. A healthy growth has been maintained, and the work is more effective and permanent than ever before.

The ten-cent assessment is a small but important levy for the support of the Central Office, and we earnestly ask that the pastors lend their hearty assistance in securing the payment of this assessment. By it the League Office has become independent of outside help, and the department has risen to the dignity of self-support.

It is with no little pleasure that we record of the Annual League Conference, held at Murfreesboro last spring, that its usefulness and attendance surpassed anything of the kind in the history of the League in Tennessee. The plan of the Conference of the previous year was followed, emphasizing the institute and training features, with results that have been since manifest in improvements in the work of the local Chapters.

One effect of the Murfreesboro Conference has been the greater emphasis upon the district work, and a larger number of District League Conferences have been held, and better district organizations effected than formerly.

Under the advice and encouragement of the Epworth League Board, there has arisen within the League circles of members in the local Chapters pledged to various forms of Christian service. These are collectively known as the "League Covenant Circles," and are four in number: "The Quiet Hour and Morning Watch;" "The Fellow-Workers' Covenant, or Personal Evangelism;" "The Forward Move," looking to the enlargement of the membership of the League; and the "Christian Stewardship, or Proportionate and Systematic Giving Bands." Your Board has, by resolution, requested that the fifth covenant be prepared to include those pledged to abstinence from intoxicants and tobacco.

The confessed difficulties of the League work are especially obvious in the rural Churches, but we note a considerable growth in the number and improvements in the work of the rural Leagues.

Growth has been marked in the Junior League, for which there is being trained a consecrated body of Superintendents. The Junior League is feasible almost everywhere if a Superintendent can be found; if not found, the Junior Superintendent can be trained to the work by the pastor.

With the growth and success of the League, there have arisen new problems, not the least of these being the saving of the boys to the Church through the League. The Junior League, composed of children from seven to nine years of age, has been an unqualified success; but the period immediately succeeding childhood—that of boyhood and girlhood, extending from ten to fifteen—has not been provided for with equal success. The boys being fewer than the girls, the young men in the Junior League are fewer than the young women. A well-matured plan (embracing constitution, manual, ritual, and other requisites for the Boys' League) has been prepared by the Secretaries, and the literature will be off the press of our Publishing House within a few days. We especially commend "The Gang of Six," a story of fascinating power, by Dr. Du Bose, which appears as a serial in the Epworth Era. It will be available in book form at 50 cents within a few weeks.

Chiefly through the development of the Young People's Department of the Board of Missions, together with the help in the Era, the Epworth League has advanced to a most prominent position among the missionary forces of the Church. Nothing has been found more useful or opened up larger promise than the Mission Study Class in the League, pursuing in well-prepared text-books, with proper helps, the systematic study of missions. The text-books for the courses of this year are: "The Christian Conquest of India," by Bishop Thoburn, and "Aliens or Americans," a study of immigration by Dr. H. B. Grose. We look for the organization this year of not less than five hundred classes throughout the Church.

Especial attention is called to the general organ, the Epworth Era, which now has a circulation of about twenty-two thousand. Improvement and enlargement of the paper are promised for the near future, and will, we trust, be accompanied with an increase in circulation to twenty-five thousand.

The Bible Circle Studies consist of a quarterly publication by Dr. Du Bose, which will be ready January 1, and an introductory booklet on the "Devotional Study of the Bible," by Dr. Parker, is now ready and to be had at five cents a copy.

We commend to your attention the Junior Topics Quarterly, the Helps for the Devotional Department, and the Reading Circle.

We recommend: I. That you confirm the following officers of the Tennessee Conference Epworth League: R. B. Eleazer, President; Dr. Jessie Atkins, First Vice President; Miss Julia May Maney, Second Vice President; Miss Grace Langdon, Third Vice President; Miss Bessie Trawick, Fourth Vice President; Miss Mary Meriwether, Superintendent of Junior Work; Miss Carrie Porter, Assistant Junior Superintendent; G. M. Boyd, Secretary and Treasurer; E. H. Stockman, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer.

2. That the presiding elder of each district, with the assistance of the District League Secretary, hold within his district a League Conference or Institute at such time and place as may be convenient.

3. That the President of your Board, together with two members of the same to be chosen by the Board, act as members of the Executive Committee of the Conference Fpworth League.

A. M. Trawick, Jr., Chairman;
B. L. Lyle, Secretary.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

THE PUBLISHING HOUSE.

From the report of the Publishing House which has been submitted to the Conference, we are pleased to note a net gain of about one per cent on its capital stock over that reported by your committee last year. The splendid new building on Broad Street has been completed, and is equipped with everything necessary for a modern and up-to-date publishing company, and is now being occupied as such.

THE METHODIST REVIEW

furnishes a medium through which the leading thinkers of our Church can contribute to the public their convictions on the great religious questions of our day. A full and free discussion and earnest consideration of the perplexing problems which occupy the minds of preachers and laymen are greatly to be desired. What we need is a journal where we may find presented the great work of the Church in this and other lands, with wise suggestions for our inexperienced men. Questions of dogma and creed are by no means to be disregarded, but we will never accomplish our mission by confining our attention to these alone.

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

We note with pleasure that the Christian Advocate is on a self-sustaining basis, and plans have been agreed upon to improve its already high character of contents and enlarge its circulation. We are of the opinion that these plans, as outlined to the Conference by Rev. J. M. Moore, the Managing Editor, will result in a paper of which the Church will justly be proud. The editors are both able and willing to raise the standard of our general organ to the highest possible point of excellency, provided they can have the coöperation of the ministry and membership of our Church. We therefore earnestly recommend that we do all in our power to further the interests of this paper, and thus show our appreciation of the efforts being made by the editors. We do not believe that the subscription price should be lowered, but that an effort should be made to put the paper in every home of Methodism.

MIDLAND METHODIST.

Recognizing the need of a Conference organ with sufficient space for all local news of interest, we are pleased to call attention to the Midland Methodist. During the past year its circulation has shown a well-deserved increase. Its editorial and news departments are first-class in every respect. We regret that so few contributors have been found among our ministers and members. The editor and publisher have done all in their power to give us just what we need and want. In return let us show our appreciation by contributions of news, thought, and subscriptions. We recommend the appointment of Rev. J. R. Stewart, Rev. J. T. Curry, and Mr. J. L. Parkes, on the part of the Tennessee Conference, as members of the Joint Commission of the Midland Methodist.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS.

An increase of fifteen hundred subscribers shows the appreciation shown the Epworth Era by the Epworth Leaguers. This is richly deserved.

While recognizing the high standard of the Sunday School Magazine and other publications of this department, we wish to call special attention to the Children's Visitor. No publication of our Church has a greater field of usefulness. It is necessary to supply wholesome, and at the same time interesting, reading for the children. This is well done by the Visitor. It is well edited and adapted to the minds of the little folks. Too much stress cannot be placed upon the wisdom of putting the Children's Visitor in the hands of every child in the South. They will read. Give them proper food for thought and interest.

We regret to report that the press of our Publishing House has not issued a single book of especial interest from the pen of our members or ministers during the past year.

F. P. McWhirter, Chairman;
S. M. Cherry, Jr., Secretary.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Dear Brethren: Your Committee on Sabbath Observance beg leave to report as follows:

We are forcibly impressed with the fact that we cannot guard too carefully and sacredly that day appointed by God himself as a day of rest from all toil and labor to both man and beast. And to this end it behooves us to throw around the sacred institution of the holy Sabbath all the safeguards possible, and to emphasize more fully than ever before the great danger threatened by the great influx of a foreign population that has little or no sympathy and love for our Sabbath and are therefore disposed to infringe upon, desecrate, and destroy this day set apart and observed by us, a Christian nation. We cannot lay too much stress upon nor demand too rigid an enforcement of the observance of this most sacred and holiest of all days.

The stimulus engendered by the foreign element and their ignorance of and disregard for our Christian Sabbath, coupled with the feverish excitement of a hungering desire for wealth and amusements among our own people, demand serious consideration and prayerful thought upon our part. We would commend most heartily the officers of the law in our various towns and cities for their strenuous efforts in closing up saloons, putting down gambling, and using their utmost diligence in suppressing all forms of crime, and we would insist upon a strict observance of the law which in many places is disregarded by buying and selling goods on the Sabbath, especially family groceries.

We would insist that all our preachers urge upon their people the supreme importance of "Remembering the Sabbath day to keep it holy" by abstaining from all questionable amusements that tend to bring the Sabbath day into disrepute, especially such as baseball and football games, which convert the Sabbath into a picnic occasion rather than a day of rest, devotional meditation, reading of God's Word, and attendance upon the ordinances of service in the church and places of religious worship.

R. H. Hudgens, Chairman; John H. Stevenson, Secretary.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The official communication and the annual report of Dr. J. D. Hammond, General Secretary of Education, which were referred to the Board of Education, have been carefully examined; and we are gratified to find, in the many encouraging facts contained therein, abundant evidence that the past year has been one of great activity throughout our entire Church in behalf of our schools and the cause of Christian education generally. The one hundred and eighty-two institutions of learning owned by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, have buildings and grounds valued at about ten million dollars, which is an increase of a million and a half dollars during the past year. The endowment funds of these various institutions aggregate three and a half million dollars, an increase of one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars during the year. They have a total income from all sources of nearly two million dollars, an increase of nearly seven hundred thousand dollars; while the total enrollment of students is thirty-five thousand, an increase of more than five thousand over the number reported last year.

The attention of the Conference should be called to the fact that the last General Conference increased the educational assessment upon the whole Church from thirty to fifty thousand dollars. This assessment is to be designated henceforth as "The Assessment for Educational Extension:"

The interest which the General Board of Education is taking in the oetter training of the preachers and teachers of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church is worthy of all commendation. There is no influence at work among the colored people of our Southland that is more sane, conservative, wise, and healthful, both morally and socially, than that which emanates from the leaders of this Church; and there is, perhaps, no manner in which our own Church can contribute more effectively toward a happy and distinctly Christian solution of the ominous race problem than by encouraging and helping with our money, our prayers, and our personal efforts the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church to educate, evangelize, and elevate their own people.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

Vanderbilt University reports a total enrollment of eight hundred and thirty-four students for last year in all seven departments of the University. Ninety-six of this number were young preachers, and seven of these are credited to the Tennessee Conference. The total enrollment up to date this session in the whole University is somewhat larger than it was this time last year.

The main building, which was consumed by fire eighteen months ago, has been rebuilt, and will be entirely complete, it is hoped, within a month. The chapel and recitation rooms are already in use. Furman Hall, designed for the use of the Departments of Chemistry and Pharmacy, is now in process of construction. It is being built of stone, and will doubtless be the most imposing and beautiful building on the campus when it is finished. The University is greatly in need of a large and modern fireproof library building, and it is hoped that the friends of the institution will soon provide the funds necessary to meet this its greatest and most pressing need.

A year ago this Conference addressed a memorial to the General Conference concerning the relation of Vanderbilt University to the Church. It is not amiss, therefore, that we make mention of the fact that the General Conference, after declaring that there can be no question as to the ownership of the University by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, appointed a commission of five lawyers, who were instructed (1) to inquire into and define the present relations of the University to the Church and to take whatever steps, if any, may be found necessary to complete the transfer of the University from the original patronizing Conferences to the General Conference, and (2) to determine the charter rights of the bishops in the management of the University. This commission has not yet completed its work. If it shall find that this Conference has not already taken all the action necessary to transfer its rights in the University to the General Conference, we will be duly informed of that fact, and we can then take whatever action may be called for under the circumstances.

OTHER SCHOOLS.

We are glad to learn that Martin College, at Pulaski, has been rebuilt, and has reopened under conditions that promise a career of great usefulness for the institution. There are several schools in the bounds of our Conference which, though not owned by the Church, are yet under the control of Methodist teachers in whole or in part, and are perhaps doing as good service for our Church as if they were the property of the Church. Worthy of especial mention in this class are the following: The Clarksville Academy, Buford College, at Nashville, the Webb School, at Bellbuckle, the Branham and Hughes School, at Spring Hill, the Howard Institute, at Mt. Pleasant, the Morgan School, at Fayetteville, the Peoples School, at Franklin, Cumberland City Training School, the Massey School, at Cornersville, the Hawkins School, at Gallatin, and the Columbia Military Academy. We desire again to express our continued appreciation of the favors shown by these and other schools to our young men who are studying for the ministry, and to our preachers in the education of their children.

THE CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL.

The Correspondence School continues to meet a great and growing need in the education of our young ministers. Within four years after its organization it has an enrollment of seven hundred and forty-nine students, of which number twenty-one are from this Conference. We would urge every undergraduate in the Conference to join this school without delay, believing as we do that the course of study will be more thoroughly prosecuted in this way than is possible if the books be studied without any such assistance and guidance as is furnished in the Correspondence School. We feel that we can most consistently urge this course upon all undergraduates because if any young preacher of this Conference has such a small salary that it will embarrass him to pay the annual fee of ten dollars which is required, and if his presiding elder will indorse his application, stating this fact, the Board of Education will be very glad to pay the fee for him. We desire to call special attention to the circulating library that has been established by the Correspondence School, the books of which, costing something over two thousand dollars, will soon be ready for use by any and all our ministers at a small cost. The Quiet Hour League for the daily devotional study of the Bible and for prayer is a movement recently projected by the Correspondence School, the Epworth League, Sunday School, Missionary, and other connectional departments, and has in it great possibilities of usefulness. Our preachers can well afford to join it themselves and to encourage all their people to do so. It should result in a deepening of the spiritual life of our ministry and membership.

THE PREACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The last session of the Preachers' Institute, which met last June in Wesley Hall, was greatly enjoyed by the seventy or eighty ministers who were present. The books and topics which were discussed were such as had in them power to arouse both the intellectual and spiritual life of all who attended the exercises. We could wish that a larger number of our preachers, especially of our young preachers, might enjoy and profit by this week of work and worship and helpful social intercourse that is provided at small expense for all who attend. There are several laymen in Nashville who are only too glad to provide free entertainment for every minister in the Conference who may desire to attend and who may find that the expense involved makes it impossible for him to do so.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

A year ago the Conference appointed a committee of five ministers and five laymen to invite the counsel and coöperation of other adjacent Annual Conferences in establishing somewhere in the Central South a Woman's College equal to the best in America and to cost not less than a million dollars. The invitation was extended to other Conferences, and a meeting was held last March in the Publishing House, at Nashville, which was attended by representatives of the Kentucky, Louisville, Memphis, White River, Little Rock, North Mississippi, North Alabama, Holston, and Tennessee Conferences, and the proposed college received the hearty and enthusiastic indorsement of all those who were present. There can be no question that such an institution is greatly needed, and it will surely be established sooner or later by some Church at some point in the South. It only awaits, in order to make it a reality, a providential leader to take hold of it, and one or more liberal contributions to bring it prominently and favorably before the Church and the people of our Southland. The committee regrets that it has nothing definite to report in the way of contributions; nevertheless it is their purpose, we learn, to continue to work for the establishment of such an institution as that proposed for the highest and best education of Southern women. We trust that they may be providentially guided in their plans and efforts to meet this great educational need of the Church.

In the meantime the Tennessee Conference is in need of an institution of lower grade than that here contemplated for the education of its own daughters, and we think we voice the sentiment of the entire Conference when we say that the Conference will welcome the gift of such an institution from any town or city that may prove a proper-location for a Conference Woman's College, and we doubt not it would be both thepleasure and the interest of the Conference to build up and constantly enlarge and improve any worthy institution that should be placed in its possession.

THE TREASURY.

The Twentieth Century Fund now amounts to $7,382.55. It is safely invested at six per cent interest, which is being compounded annually. In addition to this, the Board of Education has invested $3,300 of its holdings at six per cent interest.

During the past year we have aided nine young men studying for the ministry and seventeen of our preachers in the education of their daughters. The report of R. A. Rees, Treasurer, for the year is as follows:

BIBLE SOCIETY BOARD.

The Bible Society Board note with pleasure a slight increase in the amount contributed to the American Bible Society. Still there are many pastoral charges which report no contributions, and many of our best circuits and stations report very small amounts.

We still believe that the American Bible Society is indispensable to the successful prosecution of all missionary effort at home and in the foreign field, and that it should receive equal consideration with the other benevolent claims of the Church.

We earnestly recommend that all of our pastors preach a special sermon on the Bible Cause during the ensuing Conference year, and urge their people to make liberal contributions to this great cause.

JOHN L. NOLEN, Secretary.

REPORT No. 2.

We herewith return the report referred to us from the Board of Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in reference to the Endowment Fund for superannuated preachers, and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers for our Church at large, with the recommendation that the same be printed in the Journal. We again call special attention to the law, which is specific and imperative and not optional, that every preacher shall present the claim of this fund to each congregation in his charge annually, and receive voluntary contributions to the same. The Board will further request that the presiding elders give special attention to the enforcement of this requirement of our law.

To the Bishop and Members of the Tennessee Annual Conference, M. E. Church, South.

Dear Fathers and Brethren: We, the Board of Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and custodian of the Endowment Fund for superannuated preachers, and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers, as created by the General Conference of 1902, respectfully submit the following communication:

We have at this date, September 24, 1906, to the credit of the Endowment Fund for superannuates, from all sources, in net assets, $188,264.52, of which there are outstanding loans of $83,181.67, with $261.43 in bank. These loans are made at from six per cent to eight per cent per annum, secured by first mortgage on improved real estate, forty per cent of the value.

The recent General Conference made no material change in the law of the Church respecting this Fund, having adopted some minor changes suggested by the Board of Trustees, in whose custody it still remains.

We are gratified to find that this new connectional enterprise meets with general public favor, and that with increased information concerning it there is enlargement of interest in it.

It is the purpose of the Board to adopt, for the immediate future, the most aggressive policy consistent with practicability. This greatly needed and long-neglected provision for our superannuates should be pushed forward with all possible vigor.

The ultimate success of this worthy cause will depend largely on the attitude maintained and the interest manifested by our itinerant preachers.

We beg most respectfully to call attention to the law, which is specific and imperative, that every preacher in charge shall present the claims of this fund to each congregation annually, and receive voluntary contributions to the same. An average collection of the small sum of two dollars from each Church in the connection would give this fund more than $30,000 annually. This fact emphasizes the importance of each pastor's active interest.

It is also our intention, during the next Conference year, to send special agents to as many of our stronger Churches as will grant permission in order to lay this most important claim before them. Brethren, please open your churches to us, when at all practicable, and give us right of way for the sake of our great work.

A large amount of notes and subscriptions fall due the present year. We urge that our preachers and people, as far as possible, meet these claims as they mature. This is greatly to be desired for many and obvious reasons. Meantime, we would urge those who have not yet contributed to this fund to confer with our representative at this Conference with reference to so doing.

We submit, furthermore, that this great cause furnishes the best of opportunities for bequests, annuities, and the wise disposal of property for beneficent purposes.

Earnestly soliciting your coöperation in our work, and praying the divine blessings upon you in annual session, we are,

Yours fraternally,

W. F. TILLETT, President;
JOHN R. STEWART, Secretary-Treasurer.

CHURCH PROPERTY.

We are pleased to report that, upon examination of the statistical report as compiled by the Secretary of the Conference, we find 610 churches reported, with a valuation placed on the same at $1,113,312.45. This is an increase of eight and five-sixths churches, and a decrease in valuation of $29,748.80.

We recommend that all of our preachers in charge urge the keeping clean and beautifying of their local church property by keeping the yards in good condition; also the keeping up of all small repairs, and painting when needed. So impressed are we with this needed reform that we would also recommend the organization of "Church Improvement" and Building Boards" in each district on and after the plan of the one now so successfully operated by the Nashville District. By this means every church could and would be made more inviting, attractive, and comfortable.

We would also recommend and urge, on account of the advance in the price of building material of all kinds, labor, etc., that the trustees of all churches examine and compare the amount of insurance carried with the valuation reported, and if not covered fully, do so at once.

We request that our presiding elders read this report, especially the last two paragraphs, before the Quarterly Conference in each charge, that the attention of the official boards and trustees may be called to these needed reforms.

Respectfully submitted.

FINLEY M. DORRIS, Chairman; A. P. JACKSON, T. A. CARDEN, JAMES B. HALE.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

In submitting this, our last statement for the quadrennium, it is with a degree of satisfaction that we are enabled to report material progress in all the Sunday school interests. The statistics show an encouraging percentage of increase in the number of schools, the number of schools, the amount collected for Sunday schools, the amount paid for missions, and the amount collected on Children's Day.

We recommend that an Institute, or Sunday School Rally, he held during the year in each presiding elder's district, and that the presiding elders be requested to give one day for this purpose at their District Conferences.

We recommend, as we have always done, the use of our own literature, issued by our Publishing House at Nashville.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board:

Resolved, That the Sunday School Board of the Tennessee Conference heartily indorses the plan adopted by the last General Conference for the establishment of a chair of Religious Pedagogy and Sunday Schools in Vanderbilt University, and pledges its cordial coöperation in successfully carrying it into effect. To this end it calls upon the preachers and superintendents throughout the Conference to devote increased time and care and thought in preparing for the celebration of Children's Day; that they urge upon their people the importance of the movement inaugurated by the General Conference, to which the bulk of Children's Day offerings may hereafter be devoted; and in general that they redouble their efforts to make Children's Day a success, and thus contribute in a fitting way to the new movement.

Since it has been stated and pretty satisfactorily demonstrated that eighty per cent of the accessions to the Church come from the Sunday school, it behooves all pastors and Church workers to labor assiduously to extend its influence.

We hand over to our successors, the new Board, the supervision of this department of Church work, with all its interests on the upward tendency. May they profit by the experience of the past, with its successes and mistakes, and aspire to greater achievements for good!

That we are "the heir of all the ages" is as applicable to moral influence as to state-craft and science, which is beautifully expressed in one of our hymns:

"Upon the gospel's sacred page
The gathered beams of ages shine;
And as it hastens, every age
But makes its brightness more divine.

Shines to restore, but not destroy,
As when the cloudless lamp of day
Pours out its flood of life and joy
And sweeps the lingering mists away."

With renewed and ever-increasing effort to reach the children of the Church and enlist the coöperation of the older people, we pray that under the direction of the new Board the success attained during the past quadrennium may be greatly augmented in the future.

J. W. IRWIN, Chairman;

J. T. Curry, Treasurer; H. B. Blue, Secretary pro tem.

J. T. Curry, Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

We submit this report with profound gratitude to God for the progress made in our own Conference, in the Church at large, and in the foreign field. Last year we were able to report for the first time in our history the payment in full by this Conference of all assessments for foreign and domestic missions. We are glad to report that again we meet in full all claims, and we confidently predict that this Conference will not again allow a deficit upon these assessments.

We commend the example of the laymen in the Clarksville District, who have taken up the support of a missionary. We believe the time has come for individual Churches in the Tennessee Conference to take upon themselves the support of men in the foreign field. First, regular assessments in full. This mile stone we have reached. Next, the assessment the minimum. Thirdly, the support through the General Board of individual missionaries by our strong Churches. The South Georgia Conference is an example of what can be done, and should be an inspiration to us. We can supply and maintain some of these "living links" in the golden chains wherewith to bind the world about the feet of God. We have the men and the money; we are abundantly able to go up and possess the land. The work done by the women through their Boards of Home and Foreign Missions has been eminently successful this year, the Foreign Board reporting more money raised than ever before and a net gain in membership of eight hundred. We commend the wisdom of the General Board of Missions in the selection of Rev. John R. Nelson as Secretary of Home Missions, and predict a decided forward movement in this important department of our work. We welcome most heartily Dr. W. W. Pinson, the new Assistant Secretary of Missions, and we are deeply indebted to him for the messages brought to this Conference.

We must educate our people on missions by sermons, institutes, rallies, by literature, and in every possible way.

The circulation of Go Forward must be greatly increased in our Conference. Our Sunday schools should be real and not simply technical or imaginary missionary societies. The Missionary Training School has accomplished much. We confidently look for larger things, and as a Conference we should avail ourselves of its opportunities. Study classes should be organized in both Junior and Senior Epworth Leagues wherever conditions promise successful operations. We commend the beginning made by the Sunday School Editors in the all-important matter of supplying our schools with missionary plans and information, and we recommend the missionary libraries prepared by the joint labors of the Sunday School and Mission Boards, seven volumes per set, Class A being especially for young people, Class B for teachers and other adult workers.

We must not only gather the golden harvest of to-day's offering for missions; we must also sow in the mind and heart for the larger yield of to-morrow.

That the Conference may more fully understand the efforts of our Board, we set forth as follows:

OUR POLICY.

I. It has been our policy to observe the law prescribed for the government of the Board—that is, it shall be the duty of this Board to form missions anywhere in the bounds of our Conference where it may be thought wise and for the glory of God, subject to the veto power of the President of the Conference; and when such mission has been established, our Board has assumed absolute control of the mission and full control of the funds raised for its support.

In order that we might give the wisest direction to the use of these funds, it has been our custom to withhold appropriations until after the adjournment of Conference, when we have seen and talked face to face with the missionaries; after which three things have received special consideration: (1) The needs of the work; (2) the efficiency of the man appointed to serve the work; (3) the needs of the man.

One thing our Board has fully decided upon: That the money committed to us shall not become a mere sustentation fund, but must be used in the wisest possible way for the development of missionary territory. The Board has provided report blanks with which each missionary is supplied, and no missionary can receive his quarter's draft until his quarterly report is in the hands of the Secretary of the Board.

- 2. The Board has thought wise to adopt the plan of holding a midyear meeting, in which the Board and the presiding elders have come together and looked into and fully discussed every interest connected with the work. The great advantage of which is that we have ample time and are not pushed with the hurry of Conference business as formerly.
- 3. As to city mission work, while we have sought to give full consideration to all missionary territory in the city, our main effort has been toward concentration—that is, to concentrate our efforts upon stragetic points looking to the speedy establishment of a self-supporting charge. The wisdom of this plan is abundantly demonstrated in our work at Monroe Street.

4. It has been our desire to coöperate with the presiding elders in holding Missionary Institutes in each district. Furthermore, it has been our pleasure to assist as far as possible all those traveling our missions and other hard charges in holding missionary and evangelistic services.

We recommend the appointment of Dr. D. C. Kelley as Conference Missionary Secretary.

For assessments, see table on page 57.

REV. ZACHARY WINFIELD Moores came to this world in that period following the war with Mexico, when the names of Zachary Taylor and Winfield Scott were prominent in American politics, and was therefore named for the two generals. He entered the itinerant ministry of Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in early manhood, and served about twentyfive years as an effective preacher. He was superannuated a few years ago on account of failing health. He was licensed to preach by the Alexandria Quarterly Conference, Carthage District, September 17, 1872, under the presiding eldership of Rev. J. J. Comer; was ordained deacon in Edgefield (now East Nashville) by Bishop Doggett October 7, 1877; ordained tion. Of his sacred home life as son, elder by the same bishop in Murfreesboro October 12, 1879. He was twice married. The first wife lived a short time only. The second marriage was to Miss Callie Taylor, of Stewart County, Tenn. Brother Moores was born July 25, 1849, and was reared in the community of Alexandria, Tenn. After his superannuation, he returned to his native community to reside. In October, 1905, he was kicked by a horse and thought to be fatally wounded. He rallied and was able to be out again, but never fully recovered. He died of pneumonia December 31, 1905, and was buried in the Alexandria Cemetery. The funeral was conducted by Revs. John H. Nichols and H. B. McNeill. He was a man of great industry, and worked as long as he was able, and even longer. His charges in the Conference were all country circuits and weak missions, demanding hard work and giving small remuneration. He never seemed to expect or desire easy and good-paying places. He was well informed and possessed rare wit and said interesting things, both in public and in private, at the time least expected. He enjoyed controversy, and was an authority on Methodist doctrines, being the author of a book entitled "Methodism in a Nutshell." He was an able preacher, a congenial friend, and a true man. I never heard an intimation that there was ever anything against his moral character. The wife and four small boys need the sympathy and help of friends and the care of the Church. GEORGE W. His mother was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church, and his father was of that belief, though not a communicant, so young Turner was not brought up under Methodist auspices. Nevertheless, when he was converted, at the age of nineteen, he united with the Methodist Epiccopal Church, South; and two years later, in October, 1860, he was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Annual Conference at the session held in Lebanon, Tenn. From that time, for nearly forty-six years, Brother Turner was one of the "field hands" of the Conference. one year. Brother Turner early in his ministerial career was married to Miss Mary J. Pickett, who was in many respects a very remarkable woman, and in every way suited to be a Methodist preacher's wife, and especially suited to him. Beautiful in form and feature, attractive in manner, deeply religious, sweet-spirited, modest, uncomplaining, no matter how hard the appointment, nor how severe the sacrifice that was demanded of her, economical, and withal having a great deal of practical good sense, she helped him over many a difficult place. To this marriage eleven children were born, six sons and five daughters, of whom three sons and four daughters are still living. All of these Brother Turner, though he never ceived a large salary in his life, managed to give a collegiate education, the youngest daughter being now a student in the Woman's College at Baltimore, and the youngest son a student at Vanderbilt University. The eldest son, Fennell P. Turner, is the General Secretary and Treasurer of the Executive Committee of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions. Any man who has brought up such a family as Brother Turner's is has certainly made a great success of his life. The writer has been privileged to know Brother Turner somewhat intimately for thirty-five years. In estimating his life the first element of his character he would stress is this: He was a deeply religious man. He was thoroughly converted, regenerated, when a young man. Later there came a great epoch in his religious life. He never called it "entire sanctification" or the "second blessing," but he always alluded to it as the "baptism of the Holy Spirit." He loved to talk and preach about the Spirit's work. His preaching, too, was in "demonstration of the Spirit." He loved to talk about religion in the homes where he visited, to the fathers and mothers, to the children, to the servants, to everybody. He knew something about religion from a personal experience, and hence it was no trouble for him to talk interestingly on the subject.

trude himself or his views upon others. Secondly, Brother Turner was a student. He studied men and he studied books. For one whose early advantages were as limited as his were, it is remarkable how many books he read and how well he kept abreast with the current religious thought and literature. He kept this up in his later life as well as in his earlier ministry. Allusion has been made to the fact that his boyhood was passed under strict Calvinistic influences. Brother Turner was an Arminian after the Wesleyan type. His views were very clear and distinct here. In the beginning of his ministry he mastered Watson's "Institutes," and he was never obscure or vague in the presentation of his theological views. While not a controversialist, he was a doctrinal preacher. Again, he was a faithful and welcome pastor. He loved men, and he visited them in their homes, not merely for social enjoyment (though he was of a very sociable disposition), but he visited as an ambassador for Christ. His visits were real pastoral visits. He loved chil-Yet he was not offensive and did not ob- dren, and drew them to him, and then he one year. Brother Turner early in his trude himself or his views upon others. ministerial career was married to Miss Mary J. Pickett, who was in many respects a very remarkable woman, and in every way suited to be a Methodist preacher's wife, and especially suited to him. Beautiful in form and feature, attractive in manner, deeply religious, sweet-spirited, modest, uncomplaining, no matter how hard the appointment, nor how severe the sacrifice that was demanded of her, economical, and withal having a great deal of practical good sense, she helped him over many a difficult place. To this marriage eleven children were born, six sons and five daughters, of whom three sons and four daughters are still living. All of these Brother Turner, though he never ceived a large salary in his life, managed to give a collegiate education, the youngest daughter being now a student in the Woman's College at Baltimore, and the youngest son a student at Vanderbilt University. The eldest son, Fennell P. Turner, is the General Secretary and Treasurer of the Executive Committee of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions. Any man who has brought up such a family as Brother Turner's is has certainly made a great success of his The writer has been privileged to know Brother Turner somewhat intimately for thirty-five years. In estimating his life the first element of his character he would stress is this: He was a deeply re-He was thoroughly conligious man. verted, regenerated, when a young man. Later there came a great epoch in his religious life. He never called it "entire sanctification" or the "second blessing," but he always alluded to it as the "baptism of the Holy Spirit." He loved to talk and preach about the Spirit's work. His preaching, too, was in "demonstration of the Spirit." He loved to talk about religion in the homes where he visited, to the fathers and mothers, to the children, to the servants, to everybody. He knew something about religion from a personal experience, and hence it was no trouble for him to talk interestingly on the subject.

Secondly, Brother Turner was a student. He studied men and he studied books. For one whose early advantages were as limited as his were, it is remarkable how many books he read and how well he kept abreast with the current religious thought and literature. He kept this up in his later life as well as in his earlier ministry. Allusion has been made to the fact that his boyhood was passed under strict Calvinistic influences. Brother Turner was an Arminian after the Wesleyan type. His views were very clear and distinct here. In the beginning of his ministry he mastered Watson's "Institutes," and he was never obscure or vague in the presentation of his theological views. While not a controversialist, he was a doctrinal preacher. Again, he was a faithful and welcome pastor. He loved men, and he visited them in their homes, not merely for social enjoyment (though he was of a very sociable disposition), but he visited as an ambassador for Christ. His visits were real pastoral visits. He loved chil-Yet he was not offensive and did not ob- dren, and drew them to him, and then he

DISTRICT CONFERENCE REPRESENTATION.

The following law was adopted by the Conference in session at Gallatin, Tenn., October 24, 1904:

"The District Conference, in addition to its clerical delegates provided for in the law of the Church, shall be composed of the Recording Steward, the Trustees of District Parsonage Property, and one delegate for every one hundred members; provided, that each pastoral charge shall be entitled to two delegates, to be elected by the Quarterly Conference at its first or second session of each Conference year.'

RULES OF ORDER FOR 1903.

1. The regular hour of meeting shall be 8:30, and adjourn at 12. A majority of those present and voting may extend the session temporarily, but the hour of meeting shall not be changed except by a two-thirds vote. Special afternoon or evening sessions may be ordered by a majority vote.

2. The presiding officer shall cause the session to be opened promptly with divine service, and after the reading and approval of the journal the Chair shall call the disciplinary questions according to his discretion, subject to the order of the day.

3. Special committees ordered by the Conference shall be appointed by the Chair, unless otherwise provided for.

4. When the report of a committee is under discussion, a representative of the committee shall have the right to close the discussion, and the call of the previous question shall be subject to that right.

5. The presiding officer shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Conference. When such appeal is taken, the person making the appeal shall be allowed to state the ground of his appeal, and the Chair the ground of his decision. Otherwise than this, the vote shall be taken without debate.

6. Every resolution shall be in writing, signed by at least two members, and every substitute and amendment or report of a committee shall be in writing.

7. A report, resolution, or other paper shall be considered in possession of the Conference when it has been presented to and received by the Conference and read by the Secretary, and such document cannot be withdrawn without the consent of a majority of the Conference present and voting.

8. In the disposition of matter before the Conference, the following motions shall have precedence: (1) The previous question. (2) Lie on the table. (3) Postpone to definite time. (4) Commit. (5) Amend. (6) Substitute. (7) Indefinite postponement. (8) It shall be in order to offer an amendment to an amendment, and one amendment to a substitute. Should a motion assume this shape, the order of voting shall be as follows: (a) On the amendment to the amendment; (b) on the amendment, thus perfecting the main question; (c) on the amendment to the substitute; (d) on the substitute; (e) on the main question.

9. Every member shall, when desiring to speak, arise from his seat and respectfully address the President, and shall not be interrupted when speaking unless called to order by the President or by a member of the Conference through the President. By permission of the Conference a member may explain, if he claims to be misrepresented. 10. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, nor more than fifteen minutes at one time, without leave of the Conference; nor shall any member speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

11. Every member who is within the bar when a question is put shall vote, unless the Conference excuse him. No member shall be allowed to vote who is not within the bar when the question is put.

- 12. Whenever a member shall move the "previous question," the Chair shall demand, "Shall the question now be put?" and the vote on such motion shall be taken without debate. If a majority of the members voting sustain the call, the Chair shall put the question then pending without debate, except as provided in Rule 4. See No. 8 (1) and (2).
- 13. A motion to reconsider may be made on the day of the vote or the next day after (immediately after the reading of the journal) by any member who voted with the majority.

14. On demand of one-fifth of the members of the Conference, a recorded vote by yeas and nays shall be taken.

15. A motion to adjourn made by a member entitled to the floor shall always be in order, and shall be taken without debate.

16. These rules shall not be changed or suspended except by a majority of two-thirds of all the members present and voting.
